ICE DOES HEAVY DAMAGE ON RIVER

MUCH PROPERTY LOSS IS DONE BY THE BREAKING OF GORGES.

WHEELING, Feb. 7.—Ice gorges on the high water in both the Little Kanawha and Muskingum rivers caused general destruction and great loss of property yesterday morning when the steamer T. D. Smith, moored in the harbor near the mouth of the Muskingum, was swept out by a heavy ice gorge and struck slanting against the pier of the bridge connecting Harpers and Marietta, and the Little Kanawha docks at Parkersburg were swept out by a heavy gorge.

The T. D. Smith was moored some little distance up the river from the mouth of the Muskingum when the gorge came with such force against her that lines were snapped like tow straps, seats were ripped from the deck in the twinkling of an eye, and before the crew on board had time to realize what had happened the boat was in mid-stream in the midst of crushing, grinding ice, which seethed, split and threatened to crush the hull. Almost before anything could be done the boat was fairly on the bridge and carried by a raging current slantwise against the middle pier. The ice on one side and the pier on the other forced the guards off and broke the rigging supporting the wheel which allowed one side of it to sink limp into the water. The boat was carried out into the Ohio and up until yesterday evening had not been recovered.

Later in the morning the gorge in the Little Kanawha broke loose and carried the Little Kanawha docks out into the Ohio. The company's towboat, Darling, was sent to recover the lost property, but it was not known if the boats were recaptured, which they will undoubtedly be at some point along the Ohio.

The boat house moored near the mouth of the Muskingum containing a large number of launches was carried out into the stream. About six thousand logs which were rafted near the mouth of the Little Kanawha were carried out by the rush of ice. The logs, interspersed with heavy blocks of ice, made a crush which nothing could withstand. The Muskingum was on the rampage yesterday and by shortly after noon there was 13 feet of water at Zanesville and rising. Not only were the Muskingum and Little Kanawha rising yesterday, but all the small streams along the Ohio were running out in torrents. Gorges have formed in all of the smaller creeks, which has backed up the water and when the gorges came out the water followed with a rush. The Short Creek gorges ran out yesterday and the large cakes coming out of the creek could be easily distinguished from the heavier and smaller cakes which formed in the Ohio. Wheeling creek was running out in a torrent yesterday evening. None of the ice gorges which have formed at different points in the creek have yet broken and are backing up great gulches of water in the lowlands.

The exclusiveness of the design—the correct style—the quality of workmanship forms the foundation of our reputation. Our showing of winter suitings and overcoatings will interest you—we are always pleased to show them.

Life Sentence

GIVEN CONFESSED TRAIN ROBBER AND MURDERER—ANOTHER GOT 99 YEARS.

BOULDER, Mont., Feb. 7.—George Hastings, the last of the trio who held up a Northern Pacific train near Butte last May and murdered Engineer Clow, confessed the crime yesterday and was given a life sentence. Henry Gruber confessed yesterday and George Towers was last week sent to the penitentiary for 99 years.

On Long Voyage

SUBMARINE FLOTILLA LEAVES NEW YORK ON EXTENDED VOYAGE TO SOUTHERN WATERS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Three submarine boats of the United States navy, conveyed by the converted yacht Hist, started from New York yesterday on what is said to be the longest trip ever made by submarines in the open sea. The flotilla includes the Viper, Tarantula and Cuttlefish. They are expected to call at Delaware Breakwater and Hampton Roads, after which they will proceed to some point farther south, where, in warm waters, they will engage in a practice drill.

Big Rail Order

PLACED BY PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD WITH STEEL MANUFACTURERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has placed orders with steel manufacturers for 55,000 tons of rails to be delivered during 1936. These, in addition to 36,000 tons left over from 1935, will give the company 85,000 tons for use this year.

In placing its orders the Pennsylvania Railroad invites the steel manufacturers to undertake to fill part of the allotment with rails made by the open-hearth process. It is desired to ascertain more clearly the actual differences in service between the open-hearth and Bessemer processes.

Senator Knox Ill

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Senator Knox's expedient of fighting off a threatened attack of cold by remaining at home yesterday was not successful. He's got the cold. One of his colleagues looked after his work, however, and put in two bills for him. One is a copy of Representative Acheson's bill that increases the number of chaplains in the navy from 21 to one for each 500 men in the navy, or about one hundred. The other increases the limit of cost of the public building at Charleston from $50,000 or $110,000.

DEATH DUE TO PNEUMONIA

WELL KNOWN FAIRMONT WOMAN DIED AT HUNTINGTON ON WEDNESDAY.

A delayed message received in the city yesterday announced the death of Mrs. Laura Means, which occurred on Wednesday at Marshall College Dormitory, at Huntington, of which deceased was preceptor.

It was known that Mrs. Means was seriously ill of pneumonia and much fear for her recovery was entertained. The remains arrived here last night and were taken to the home of her sisters, Misses Delphia and Lou Foreman, on High street. Mrs. Means was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Israel Foreman and resided here in her early youth. After her marriage to Mr. John Means she resided in Grafton until his death several years ago. Since that time she had been preceptor at Marshall College which post she has filled successfully.

Mrs. Means is survived by her sisters, Misses Delphia and Lou Foreman, of this city, and three brothers, Alexander Foreman of Morgantown, who with his wife had been at her bedside for several days; Pliny Foreman, of Buckhannon, and Milton Foreman, of Wilkesboro, N. C.

The remains arrived here last night on the 10:25 train via Grafton, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Foreman, Mr. Harry Huffman and sister, Miss Ethel, cousins of the deceased.

On Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, funeral services will be conducted in the First M. E. Church. The remains will be taken to Grafton at 10:30 and will lie in state at St. Andrew's M. E. Church until two o'clock. Interment will be made at Bluemont Cemetery where the husband and little daughter were laid to rest.

On Wednesday night services were held at Marshall College over the remains. The services were largely attended by pupils and teachers from the college and the town people. Rev. Townsend conducted the service. Mrs. Means was very popular at the college and her death will be keenly felt.

Died of Pneumonia.

Mr. William Evans, an aged resident of Preston county, died at his home in Evansville, Thursday morning at 6 o'clock. He was aged seventy years. Death was due to pneumonia. The deceased leaves a wife, one daughter and three brothers as follows: Messrs. John Evans, of this city, and Isaac and Samuel Evans, of Grafton.

A STRONG SERMON

Was Delivered by Rev. Webb at the Meeting Last Night.

Rev. R. T. Webb occupied the pulpit at the M. E. South Church last evening, taking as his text, II Kings, 4:26, "Is it well with thee, is it well with thy husband, is it well with thy child?" Rev. Webb's sermon was a strong one and he drew many practical lessons from the theme. The question he said had to do with every home in the world at all times, in that it concerned vitally every member of the household. One conversion was reported last night and several asked the prayers of God's people.

Prabryrian Church.

Rev. Stoetzer spoke on the theme, "Readiness to do the thing Christ would have us to do." He classified the service under three heads, readiness to serve, to suffer and to sacrifice. Services this evening at 7:30 o'clock as usual.

LEGISLATURE

ure, was substituted for it and Campbell moved to strike out enacting clause. Marshall contended the bill looked like part of a scheme to do away with normal schools. The motion was heavily defeated, and the bill ordered to third reading. This bill allows university graduates to teach without being examined.

Senate bill No. 5, refusing railroads right to condemn both sides of navigable streams, passed after an effort by Marshall to postpone it until today. Kidd, Leftwich, Miller and Marshall voted against it. The Montgomery Sunday selling bill was advanced to second reading.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the house, Stanton submitted a communication from the officials of the West Virginia insane asylum, stating that the appropriation of $5,000 last year for improvements has been slightly overdrawn in an attempt to make the improvements permanent.

A number of amendments were tacked onto the dog bill and it was made a special order for Monday at 2 o'clock.

House joint resolution No. 5, proposing an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of a lieutenant governor, was read the second time and passed to third reading. House bill No. 4, by Strothers, relating to the registration of voters, was read a second time and resubmitted to the judiciary committee.

House bill No. 12, by Hoffe, in relation to the abatement as a common nuisance of all places where intoxicating liquors are sold contrary to law, was read a second time and passed to third reading.

House bill No. 8, to make more effective the prohibition of the sale of liquors on Sunday, was passed to third reading.

House bill No. 2, concerning the valuation and assessment of property for taxation by the board of public works, on motion of Stallings, was resubmitted to the judiciary committee.

Engrossed substitute senate bill, No. 16, was read the first time and referred to the committee on education.

House joint resolution No. 10, to provide for the appointment of a committee to secure a site for the home for tuberculosis patients was adopted after being amended by striking out the clause providing for an appropriation.

House joint resolution No. 19, by Wetzel, in regard to impeachment of State officers, was referred to the judiciary committee.

The house had a pretty good session during the morning and considered quite a lot of business, among which was the new dog law and several educational bills. The house committee on education reported favorably house bill No. 26, relative to the qualifications and salaries of county school superintendents, and also house bill No. 31, providing for supplementary aid for certain school districts. The same committee reported unfavorably house bill No. 19, to create a school book board and provide for text books in the free schools of the State.

Allows Levy for Bond Issue. Stanton, from the committee on No. 10, to limit levies. The bill has No. 10, to limit levies. The bill has been amended to cover the objections raised by Wheeling interests and allow of a levy for the bond issue. Concurrent resolution No. —, asking the West Virginia members of congress to favor legislation giving States more effective police control of the liquor traffic, was adopted.

On motion of Jacobs, of Marion, the engrossed substitute for senate bill No. 16, relating to the West Virginia Normal Schools, was taken up out of order, read the first time and ordered to its second reading. House bill No. 5, creating the independent school district of Gassaway, passed, as did also house bill No. 13, regarding the value of the university diploma, and No. 18, cutting out general history from the public school course; also house bill No. 22, relating to the salaries of teachers.

The new dog law then came up and caused a flood of oratory. Many counties were exempted from the law.

The Secret of Long Life

If you would live long, guard your stomach. Most cases of sickness and death are traced to the stomach. A disordered stomach shuts off food nourishment—the active principle of life. No other disease accomplishes this as quickly or so effectively as dyspepsia.

Does your food distress you?
Does a bitter fluid rise in your throat?
Are you weak and dizzy?
Does everything appear dark when you suddenly straighten up from a bent position?
Is there a bad taste in your mouth and is your breath foul?
Do you experience a sense of impending calamity?
Are you becoming thin and haggard?
Then you have dyspepsia!

Many people think these symptoms will pass away of their own accord. They will not! Dyspepsia never cures itself—even the best scientists often fail to cure it. We know of but one remedy that will positively cure this disease—Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets.

These tablets furnish the one element necessary to enable the stomach to digest food and to again take up the work of supplying nourishment to the famished body.

We have seen them effect many marvelous cures. We do not know of a single instance where they failed to greatly benefit the sufferer. We want you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, and agree to return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.
